NED EVERETT DEAD.

Held Prominent Positions With Wilder Steamship Co.

After a short illness E. V. Everett, better known as Ned Everett, died at the Queen's Hospital late yesterday afternoon of typhoid fever.

Everett was born here on December 20, 1864. He was educated in the public schools of the Islands and after leaving school learned engineering.
For fourteen years he was in the employ of the Wilder S. S. Co., and held positions as chief engineer of the Ki-nan and Helene. Later, he has been employed as chief engineer of Honolulu plantation, which position he held at the time of his death.

Ned Everett had a host of friends and was known as one of the most popular steamboat men in the islands.

The funeral will take place from St.
Andrews Cathedral tomorrow at 3 o'clock. Rev. Alexander Mackintosh will officiate.

NOT DEAD BUT

SOUNDLY SLEEPING.

The Opinion of a Native Politician Concerning the Democratic Party Locally.

A Native politician of erudition, with Democratic leanings, in speaking to a Republican reporter of the political outlook at the coming election, said:
"It looks bad for the Democratic Party.
We lack organization and are comparatively without means. But this isn't the worst of it—harmony doesn't prevail in our ranks. Notwithstanding the attempt of our so-called leaders to make capital out of the apparent harmony prevailing at our two meetings, harmony doesn't prevail in our ranks today, as I have stated. The harmony of those meetings was owing to a lack of interest in the organization of the party."

"How about the natives? They have democratic leanings, I think, as a class, but the way things are now the bulk of their votes will not be cast for that party."

"You see what the natives are doing:
they are organizing an independent party and perfecting that organization.
Today they are doing more effective work than the democratic party, which, while it may not be dead, is certainly sleeping."

"As a democrat I favor throwing some ginger into the campaign. I believe in employing intelligent white men to instruct the natives concerning democratic principles. I not only believe in employing these white men but in paying them too."

Good Medicine for Children.

If you have a baby in the house you will wish to know the best way to check any unusual looseness of the bowels, or diarrhoea so common to small children. O. P. M. Holliday, of Deming, Ind., who has an eleven-months-old child, says: "Through the months of June and July our baby was teething and took a running off of the bowels and sickness of the stomach.
His bowels would move from five to eight times a day. I had a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy in the house and gave him four drops in a teaspoonful of water and he got better at once." For sale by all dealers and druggists. Benson, Smith & Co., general agents, Ha-wale.

Governor Dole said to a representative of the Republican last night that Mr. T. F. Lansing had not yet been and the rumor was soon current upon the streets that the appointment had been made, or would be made early this morning. Pending the appointment
